Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If the period for reply specified above is less than thirty (30) days, a reply within the statutory minimum of thirty (30) days will be considered timely.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

DETAILED ACTION

1. An Amendment was filed 2/28/05.
2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kuo 6767024.

Kuo discloses a cable guide, as depicted in figs 5-6, for control cable B comprising extending between actuator 22, and suspension system (unidentified, including elements 51), the suspension system having a crown (fig 6; unidentified portion connecting tubes 51), connecting two parallel tubes 51 to a steerer tube (unidentified, tube above crown in fig 6),

the guide comprising

housing, including elements 61, 65, 651, formed* on an outer surface (fig 6) of the crown, with bore (unidentified in element 651) extending therethrough for the cable, spool 61 for winding/unwinding the cable (c2, in 65-66), such that the cable lies substantially in a plane of the spool, and,

the cable including inner wire B (cross-hatched element) encased in an outer casing (unidentified in fig 5; connected to element 651), the housing having a radially-extending flange (unidentified bottom flange of element 61 on which inner wire rests) for engaging the casing while permitting the inner wire to extend thru the bore.

* As broadly, and reasonably, interpreted

Art Unit: 3611

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kuo.

The reference does not disclose the housing and crown as forged together, but this language suggests a process by which (at least) a portion of the invention is made, and such a process is patentably immaterial. While it is material that these elements are disclosed in the reference as recited in the relevant claims, as provided above, it is immaterial as to how these portions are formed/made.

4. RESPONSE TO REMARKS

Upon reconsideration, Examiner has modified her rejections employing Kuo, the reference disclosing the respective recited elements. She apologizes for any inconvenience. It is noted that the language "formed on an outer surface of the crown" (emphasis added) is interpreted in a broad and reasonable manner.
